

Forecast For London & Southeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Friday 19 Feb 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:

Cloudy and breezy, with outbreaks of rain arriving. Mild.

Today:

Dry start, with perhaps some early hazy sunshine in the east, but cloud will soon thicken and outbreaks of rain arrive across western areas. Through the day further outbreaks of rain will spread erratically east across remaining areas. Breezy. Mild,. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Tonight:

Most eastern places will stay cloudy while becoming dry, whilst further outbreaks of rain are likely to push across western areas. Staying mild, and breezy inland, with strong coastal winds. Minimum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Saturday:

Dry and rather cloudy for eastern areas, although some brighter spells could develop. Cloudier further west with outbreaks of rain likely, but still many places will remain dry. Breezy. Mild. Maximum temperature 15 deg C (59 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:

Sunday patchy rain gradually fading away. Monday dull with further spells of rain likely. Tuesday perhaps rain for western areas, dry and brighter further east. Mild, becoming very mild Tuesday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.